

AS SENATE VOTES B.G. RIVERBURN SOLIDS CLIMB DOWN AFTER LONG FIGHT TO FORCE PINK- HAM'S HAND

Commissioners Twist Screws On Lid Still Tighter and Ask
For Military Guards

An extra twist to the screws that clamp the lid on Honolulu harbor was given by the board yesterday afternoon when it adopted additional restrictions relating to the movements of vessels into, out of and within the harbor.

ACTION OF LEGISLATORS WAS SETTLED UPON IN CAUCUS

Confirmation of Land Commissioner Regarded As Triumph
For Senator Chillingworth

Herbert O. Riverburn was confirmed yesterday by the senate as commissioner of public lands. And Governor Pinkham to date has not sent down his nominations for the positions of auditor or surveyor.

In other words, the senate climbed down. The "intimidating" letter, which the clerk of the senate had been sent to write the Governor, informing him that action on his recess appointments had been deferred until the senate should be in receipt of all other nominations to existing vacancies, never was delivered. President Chillingworth held it in his desk, to give the senate time, as he said, "to think it over."

And now, the senators having slept on it over Sunday, it never will be delivered. Action decided on in caucus determined the change of attitude. There was no debate in the executive session yesterday. The clerk read change after name and only here and there was a pause, or a name of note passed over.

Compliments among the few not confirmed are James M. Monarrat, district magistrate, Honolulu, and William Wolters, civil service commissioner for the classified service of the board of health. Mr. Monarrat was not suitable as to the reasons prompting delay and it is premature to say that the delay is significant.

It will be remembered that Commissioner Riverburn's nomination was sent down early in the session. Late last week, the Governor sent down the full list of his recess appointments, as required by the Organic Act, filling eight class spaces typewritten pages. The senate yesterday waded through half these names and will take up those remaining today.

The outcome of the long deadlock in a distinct personal triumph for the leadership of President Chillingworth. He was charged last week in executive session with having advised the Governor to delay sending down his appointments and the following day the senate, against his counsel, adopted the resolution calling intimidation by Senator Pacheco.

Chillingworth thwarted the resolution, held up the letter, faced it out in another executive session, and justified his interference. He knew that the senate was in no position to force the Governor's hand, and therefore he advised against attempting the impossible.

Municipal office holders who have been hanging on tenterhooks while the deadlock continued, believe that the chances of the Governor signing the charter bill are now greatly improved. There is nothing official or official to indicate that they believe in anything more than a "hunch."

Follows a list of those nominations confirmed yesterday and those read by the clerk but on which action was deferred. In the case of the board of license commissioners for Maui, there is a political ban, but what she will hatch only the senators from Maui know. The long list of district magistrates laid on the table will be taken up again as soon as a Senate bill now pending has been acted on.

CONSCRIPTION FOR FROM TERRITORY IS OFFICIAL BELIEF

Study of Pending Bill Shows That Quota Called By Government Is Exceeded

HAWAIIAN MILITIA MEN NOW TWICE AS MANY AS ASKED

Department Headquarters Still In Dark Regarding Plans of Authorities

Conscription is a long way from Hawaii, even if the "selective draft" measure now before the two houses of congress becomes a law and goes immediately into effect.

Army officers at department headquarters yesterday declined to make any statement regarding the matter, for, as they expressed it, they are still in utter darkness regarding the aims of the war department, owing to the lack of definite information from Washington.

Others who have studied the text of the bill before congress point to the sections which provide for the raising of two contingents of half a million each, together with the increase of the regular army and the national guard to their full strength, as the basis for their belief that Hawaii will not feel constrained to accept the draft of five hundred thousand men in view of the fact that her national guard strength is almost double what is expected of her under the terms of the measure.

It is practically certain however, that the first step which will be taken should the bill become a law, is the registration of all male citizens of the territory available for military duty. Out of these will be chosen, under the regulations which the President shall make public, those men who are required for active duty with the colors.

It is believed at headquarters that congress immediately after the passage of the draft bill will pass such legislation as will confer the machinery for the taking of the military census or make such provisions as this emergency requires. The task of gathering the names of those liable for military service is going to prove a huge one, if the experience of Great Britain when she finally decided upon conscription, may be taken as an example for this country. Here in Hawaii it will, of course, prove less difficult than upon the mainland, where army officers who have investigated the matter.

When the lists of those available for military duty have been compiled the next step will be getting the men for the colors into the military service. This, although and here again the experience of Great Britain is going to prove of enormous advantage to the United States—it may be necessary to create service courts which shall pass upon the cases of protestants, such as conscientious objectors and the like, who are exempt under the terms of the measure.

The text of the bill provides that "all men required to raise and maintain the organizations of the regular army and to complete and maintain the organization embodying the members of the national guard drafted into the service of the United States, at the discretion of congress shall be subject to military service, or if and wherever the President deems that they cannot effectively be so raised or maintained, then by selective draft; and all other forces hereby authorized shall be raised and maintained by selective draft except as otherwise provided."

Along Hotel Street after seven o'clock the street resembled its appearance on a wet Sunday night. Heine's Tavern was a skeleton of its former glory, and the business in milk shakes was reported on the roof of the Alexander Young Hotel.
